April 2025

Our Learning

Welcome to spring and warmer weather! We continue to explore Lent and will celebrate Easter as a school and class, including learning about Holy Week and the Stations of the Cross.

In April we will continue on our literacy journey, taking what we have learned about letter sound pairings, and combining them to write and decode words on our own; or build on our own written words by making phrases or sentences!

In numeracy, we are focusing on composing and decomposing numbers, and looking at larger and trickier numbers, quantities, and patterns.

As the weather continues to warm up, we will again be focusing on the changes that occur in our environment and building up to several visits to nearby parks to explore local wildlife. We will start learning to document our observations like scientists, using our literacy skills to describe and label what we see. This is such an exciting time of year for students to explore, starting with the geese returning!

Dates for these trips will be set and communicated soon - depending on upcoming weather conditions!

Our next theme for show and tell (starting April 22) will be our favourite family memory - please send a photo, souvenir, book, game, or any other way to show your favourite family activity, memory, or tradition.

Thank You
